OVERVIEW

If you're a horse owner, you know one thing for sure… When your horse feels good, everything changes. That's why I use two innovative wellness technologies as part of my horses' daily routine: BEMER Equine and LifeWave AcuLife patches. BEMER is designed to support healthy circulation and overall wellness using a patented signal technology. LifeWave AcuLife patches are non-invasive phototherapy patches created specifically for horses. Together, they're simple, easy to use, and designed to support your horse's natural wellness routine—without drugs or complicated treatments. Because our horses give us everything they have… and they deserve the very best in return. AND for the love of our dogs!
