OVERVIEW

Codi facilitates structural balance to empower horses to achieve their full potential. Using Structural Integration as a foundation, she works with the fascia system through a systematic yet intuitive series of treatment sessions. By identifying and releasing restrictive patterns within the body, she helps restore balance and fluidity within the horse. Codi views each horse as an individual with a unique personality, body type, and personal history and tailors the work to the horse's needs to achieve optimal results. Other bodywork modalities include craniosacral therapy, acupressure and frequency balancing.
