OVERVIEW

Dye Dressage is based upon a foundation of trust and respect, creating a harmony between horse and rider. Emma tailors her instruction to each individual horse and rider to meet them where they are, regardless of level. This approach moves both horse and rider forward in their development and training to achieve their goals. Just like people, horses often don't respond to pre-formed molds of training. Emma takes her 30 years of competitive and training experience, combined with respectful and clear communication essential to building that trust and confidence, to achieve the desired results. Emma has a proven success rate in training challenging horses that have physical and or mental rehabilitation needs. Emma recognizes that each horse and rider team are individuals and must be treated as such. Emma's tailored and patient approach is based upon a foundation of trust and respect which is extremely beneficial to horse/rider partnerships. Emma...
