OVERVIEW

We believe natural communication and strong health is the path to the highest levels of horsemanship. At Freedom Farm, we dedicate ourselves to providing individuals the tools and techniques to fulfill and expand their equestrian passions. We bring horses and riders to new levels of awareness, strength, and trust by building physical, emotional, and mental balance. Freedom Farm takes in a limited number of horses for training each month. Our approach gives the horse the foundation that underlies our lessons and classes, starting with ground work that enhances training in all disciplines, Western and English. Freedom Farm is an all natural facility. We offer pasture boarding with large group shelters. Our horses are barefoot, go without blankets, and live in small herds. Our hay is grown right here on the farm and is analyzed for nutritional content each year. We provide an open learning environment in which expert advice…
