OVERVIEW

Heritage Portable Buildings is a family owned business based in beautiful Skagit Valley in Burlington, Washington. We have over 25 years in the construction industry. Formerly we were building homes and doing remodels in the San Juan Islands. Seeing a need for high quality yet affordable portable structures, we have shifted our focus solely to meet that need. In whatever area of the construction industry we are in, quality has always been our primary concern. Today it is still our focus in the products we offer. From our team of great craftsman, to our salesman and delivery and setup guys, we all are here to make sure your experience is trouble free and satisfactory. Engineering and revolutionary materials allow us to provide buildings of superior design, lasting quality and one-of-a-kind features. Great attention to detail ensures that no building elements go unquestioned. Our sales and design consultants make the...
