OVERVIEW

Dutch- you won't find a horse that has been exposed to more real-world situations than him. He has been a mount for Rodeo Queens at the Cody Stampede, as well as in the Fourth of July Cody parade. He's been used to drag calves in the branding pen and for all other forms of ranch work. He has given kids their first rides and has been used for riders with physical impairments. He will rate to his rider and take perfect care of them. Put him on the trail with a low-confidence rider, and they'll come back hours later with a big smile on their face. I truly love to ride this horse. We have covered a lot of big, tough country, and he takes it all in stride. Dutch is willing to move at any speed I ask for. If we need to cover ground, he's more than capable,...
