OVERVIEW

Muddy Creek started over 10 years ago on a cold wet day in Michigan on a 250 mile trail ride across the state. Literally fed up with inadequate rain gear an idea was launched to start something new...to make a really good quality, functional, lightweight, breathable, super oversized waterproof coat that would revolutionize the "horseman's raincoat category" for all time. So from the heart and mind and creative spirit of a lifetime horse back rider...this idea came to life. Through sheer pluck and determination, inch by inch a company was born with the single-minded goal of creating the best riding rain coat. Along the way, an entire line of horseman's rain gear was created, each piece extensively field tested to ensure maximum functionality under any conditions. Muddy Creek products are now enjoyed by thousands of happy riders worldwide! It is our privilege to bring you these fine quality products. Apparel...
