OVERVIEW

The Northwest Horse Source & Horse Source Network Connecting the Horse Industry Through Visibility, Relationships, and Trusted Resources For over 30 years, The Northwest Horse Source has been a trusted voice in the equine community—helping horse owners, businesses, and organizations stay informed, connected, and supported. Today, that foundation has grown into the Horse Source Network—a modern, multi-platform system designed to give equine businesses consistent visibility where horse people are already spending their time online. The network includes: The Northwest Horse Source (NWHS) – editorial content, advertising, and industry features Colorado Horse Source (COHS) – regional news, resources, and community HorseSource.org – a national, ad-free directory supporting equine and veteran non-profits (15% of proceeds donated) Horse Source Live – educational events and conversations that bring the community together Rather than one-time advertising, the focus today is on ongoing presence and relationship-building—helping businesses stay top-of-mind through a combination of: Directory listings Business profiles...
