OVERVIEW

Wholehearted Animal Removal provides licensed, bonded, and insured deceased animal removal services throughout Pierce and Thurston Counties, Washington — serving Roy, Yelm, Spanaway, Graham, Eatonville, Rainier, Tenino, Lacey, Olympia, Tumwater, Puyallup, and surrounding communities, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Founded by respected farrier and championship roper James Wayne Carver, and continued today by his son Aaron Carver, Wholehearted Animal Removal is a second-generation family business built on decades of trusted relationships with local veterinarians and farm owners across the region. We handle horses, cattle, llamas, goats, sheep, household pets, and wildlife with the same care and respect the Carver name has stood for since the beginning. We're one of only three companies in the region equipped to handle large animal removal, and our large animal transport capability extends statewide and out-of-state — including veterinary necropsy transport from the Seattle area to institutions like the University of Oregon....
